Telva Signs Reseller Contract with Saro GmbH (Ghosthood)

As of April 2025, Telva has entered into an agreement to act as official reseller and agent for Saro GmbH (Ghosthood), the camouflage specialists, in Finland. Ghosthood is a manufacturer and supplier of state-of-the-art multispectral camouflage systems to government agencies and authorities worldwide.

Ghosthood offers cutting-edge camouflage technology that meets the highest standards. The lightweight and modular systems provide advanced protection across the visual, near-infrared (NIR), and thermal spectrums, ensuring quick deployment and superior concealment for personnel and equipment in tactical operations. In addition to personal camouflage, Ghosthood supplies effective multispectral solutions for vehicles and tanks, significantly reducing different signatures for a decisive tactical advantage. Furthermore, their multispectral camouflage nets offer versatile protection, combining light weight with adaptable concealment in various environments.

For Telva, signing with Ghosthood as a partner is a step towards offering a wider range of protective solutions for our customers. In the words of Telva Managing Director, Tapani Hollmén: "Ghosthood is a perfect addition to our collection of brands. The technology and experience that Ghosthood brings will impress our customer pool. With today's business, security and defence being so important, Telva is proud to now be able to offer camouflage solutions from Ghosthood."

What is Camouflage?

Camouflage is the art of concealment, used to blend into the surroundings and avoid detection. By disrupting the enemy's ability to detect and target, Ghosthood's technology enhances both the safety and effectiveness of operators in the field, saving lives every day.

Ghosthood uses its proprietary, patented conCAMO camouflage pattern, which mimics nature and is based on the principles of perception psychology.
